Equal opportunities in the courtroom - access to justice for vulnerable social groups: Challenges and solutions in Europe

The (European) concept of equal access to justice

Elisabeth Sándor-Szalay university professor, Minority Ombudsperson

8th December 2023

Structural injustices, inequalities and emerging human rights challenges are putting peaceful and inclusive societies further out of reach. To meet Goal 16 by 2030, action is needed to restore trust and to strengthen the capacity of institutions to secure justice for all and facilitate peaceful transitions to sustainable development.

The Graz Recommendations on Access to Justice and National Minorities - 2017 OSCE High Commissioner on National Minorities

Recommendations on the Effective Participation of National Minorities in Social and Economic Life

The inclusion of national minorities in economic and social life is a crucial element of democracy, particularly in multi-ethnic societies, as it fosters unity and breaks down societal divisions. The High Commissioner on National Minorities' Recommendations on the Effective Participation of National Minorities in Social and Economic Life offer practical tools to facilitate social and economic participation at different levels and in various settings.

Book

English

24 October 2023

View Now

The Tallinn Guidelines on National Minorities and the Media in the Digital Age

Diverse societies require space for inclusive and pluralistic interaction and debate. Media and information technologies can offer such spaces to allow different groups to interact with each other, explore their identities, and voice diverse perspectives without fear. This fosters dialogue and mutual understanding, strengthens societal integration and resilience, and reduces tensions. The OSCE High Commissioner on National Minorities offers guidance on how to create, nurture, and develop the role of the media and information technologies for conflict prevention.

Book

English Русский Українська Română

1 February 2019

View Now

The Graz Recommendations on Access to Justice and National Minorities

A set of OSCE High Commissioner on National Minorities Recommendations on access to justice and national minorities

Book

English Русский Українська Română

14 November 2017

View Now

The Graz Recommendations on Access to Justice and National Minorities & Explanatory Note

November 2017

The Graz Recommendations on Access to Justice and National Minorities & Explanatory Note

November 2017

The Graz Recommendations

- 1. Access to justice for persons belonging to national minorities should be underpinned by the principles of the rule of law, non-discrimination and equality, including gender equality, the right to a fair hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial body established by law, the right to legal assistance and the right to an effective remedy.
- 2. Measures to guarantee access to justice for national minorities should be broader than providing access to courts. States should establish, strengthen and fund independent human rights institutions that can secure effective remedies for all complainants, including persons belonging to national minorities.
- 3. States should ensure that when persons belonging to national minorities engage with judicial and national human rights institutions and take part in proceedings, they are able to do so in a language they understand, and preferably in their language, as well as in an environment that is respectful of their identity.
- 4. States should make legal assistance available to national minorities in a way that addresses the obstacles they face in accessing justice.
- 5. The composition of courts, tribunals, prosecution offices, law-enforcement agencies, correctional services, enforcement agencies (or bailiffs) and human rights institutions, should aim to reflect the diversity of the population at all levels.
- 6. To facilitate access to justice for national minorities, States should ensure that law-enforcement agencies work to build trust with minority communities and enforce the law in an impartial and non-discriminatory manner, free of prejudice and gender bias.
- 7. Victim support services and witness protection measures should be sensitive to the needs of persons belonging to national minorities, and of minority women in particular.
- 8. States should ensure that court orders and judgments affecting persons belonging to national minorities are executed effectively, impartially and within a reasonable time.
- 9. States should ensure that persons belonging to national minorities held in detention or imprisoned are treated with humanity and respect for their identity.
- 10.States should, as a matter of urgency, provide effective redress to persons belonging to national minorities who have suffered serious human rights violations as a result of inter-ethnic conflict.

OECD - 2023

Recommendation of the Council on Access to Justice and People-Centred Justice Systems

The OECD Global Roundtables on Access to Justice support countries in closing the remaining gaps in accessibility, effectiveness and efficiency of justice, by identifying and fostering exchange of good practices and experiences in enhancing access to justice from both citizen and business perspectives.

On this website you can access the latest research and data on responsiveness, and people-centricity of justice, and follow our upcoming events.

Good practices for people-centered legal and justice services

Legal needs assessments, mapping legal and justice services relative to need, individual capability assessment by service providers, screening tools

Involvement of clients/users in planning & evaluation, integrate 'plan-do-study' cycle, sharing good practices, standardising tools, developing quality standards/matrices

Multiple, diverse, and integrated access points & service responses, seamless referral systems, one-stop shops, problem-solving courts, holistic approaches to service delivery, holistic practices, team delivery of services (including non-legal service providers), collaborative governance structures to facilitate coordination between legal and justice service providers (including client/user representatives)

Delivery Design EVIDENCE-BASED PLANNING ACCESSIBILITY EFFECTIVENESS AVAILABILITY INDIVI-PREVENTION, PROACTIVITY &TIMELINESS COLLABORATION SOCIONONIC SERVICE ENVIRONMENTE SERVICE ENVIRONMENTE SERVICE ENVIRONMENTE ENVIRONMENTE SERVICE ENVIRONMENTE ENVIRONMENTE SERVICE ENVIRONMENTE ENVIRONMENTE SERVICE S APPROPRIATENESS & RESPONSIVENESS INTEGRATION EMPOWERMENT EQUALITY & INCLUSION OUTCOME-FOCUS & FAIRNESS

Fairness standards, client evaluation procedural fairness, evaluation of processes & outcomes on an individual and systemic basis (e.g. result of how legal and justice services work together), outcome objectives are set for individual and integrated services, services evaluated according to these objectives, long-term follow up studies of client/user outcomes

Priority-setting on needs assessments of vulnerable groups, outreach services, culturally appropriate services, legal & justice resources in a range of accessible formats

Sensitive use of ICT, programs to overcome accessibility barriers of at-risk groups, simplified legal language & procedures, reform of substantive law to facilitate legal clarity, civic engagement &

Range of services along continuum & spectrum of justice services, strategic deployment of services

Proactive outreach, hospital based legal advice programs, improved coordination of legal information services and advice, adapting entry points to the needs of marginalised groups, enhanced capacity for diagnosis, triaging, and referral, problem-solving courts, systemic advocacy, justice institutions with systemic/preventative mandates.

Simplifying or specialised proceedings, tailoring procedures to types of matters, expanding dispute resolution options, making courts and tribunals multiservice centres, triaging, matching level of legal assistance/representation to individual capacity and situation, use of ICT to deliver legal and justice services, localised flexibility

Legal information in range of formats, ICT delivered legal information and skills, legal awareness initiatives, building legal literacy & legal capabilities through self-help & guided help, employing legal health strategies for empowerment prevention, legal health checklists, user-friendly services, culturally appropriate services, post-resolution support building resilience.

OECD criteria

for people-centered design and delivery of legal and justice services

Effectiveness

Evidence-based planning	People-centred legal and justice services are based on and respond to an empirical understanding of legal needs and legal capabilities of those who require or seek assistance. People-centred legal and justice services are inclusive and targets	ed
Equality and inclusion	at those most in need, responsive to specific access needs of particular groups likely to suffer from social and economic disadvantage or are otherwise marginalized or vulnerable and those with complex needs. They are designed to contribute to equality, poverty reduction and social inclusion.
Accessibility	People-centred legal and justice services are accessible and designed to actively overcome the range of barriers to the assistance they require.
Availability	People-centred legal and justice services are available across the justice chain and provided in a range of formats, program and services types.
Prevention, proactivity, and timeliness	People-centred legal and justice services are proactive and contribute to prevention of legal problems and to timely resolutior Recurring legal problems are addressed on a systemic basis to address underlying causes thereby preventing reoccurrences.

i
Appropriateness and responsiveness	People-centred legal and justice services are appropriate and responsive to the individual, the issues they face, and their situation. They are tailored, proportionate and efficient and flexible to accommodate local circumstances.
Empowerment	People-centred legal and justice services are empowering, enable people's meaningful participation in the justice system and build people's legal capabilities
Collaboration and integration	People-centred legal and justice services are part of a coherent system that provide seamless referrals and integrated services through collaboration among legal, justice and other human service providers. People get access to all the services they need to solve the legal and related non-legal aspects of their problems holistically regardless of entry point for assistance.
Outcome-focus and fairness	People-centred legal and justice services contribute to fair process and fair outcomes and to better and more sustainable procedural, substantive and systemic outcomes, including increased trust and confidence in the justice system and better justice system performance and to the attainment of societal objectives such as social inclusion

People-centred legal and justice services are effective and

and the development and sharing of best practices

continually improved through evaluation, evidence-based learning

QUARTERLY INFORMATION BULLETIN OF THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE RIGHTS OF NATIONAL MINORITIES IN HUNGARY

CONTENTS

- · Professional meetings and forums
- · Statistical data
- · New joint report and general comment
 - use of nationality names
 - activities of rangers and public area inspectors
- · Human rights messages
- · Key domestic and international events
- · Nationality data of the 2022 census

INFO.sheets 3

Equal treatment and equal opportunities

Hungary shall ensure fundamental rights for all without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, disability, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status (Article XV (2) of the Fundamental Law).

Hungary shall promote equal opportunities and social inclusion by special measures (Article XV (4) of the Fundamental Law).

THE REQUIREMENT OF EQUAL TREATMENT

No unjustified distinction may be made between persons or groups of persons on the basis of their protected characteristics (see Article XV (2) of the Fundamental

ENSURING EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

Reduction of existing social disadvantages through special measures or procedures.

According to Act CXXV of 2003 on Equal Treatment and Ensuring Equal, the conceptual elements for establishing discrimination are as follows.

DISADVANTAGE

COMPARABLE SITUATION

Forms of violating equal treatment:

DIRECT DISCRIMINATION

occurs when a person or group is treated less favourably because of its protected characteristics than another person or group in a comparable situation.

INDIRECT DISCRIMINATION

occurs when a measure is apparently neutral and unbiased, but adversely affects a proportionately greater number of those with the protected characteristics.

HARRASMENT

occurs when a person engages in conduct against a person with a protected characteristics that is degrading to human dignity and has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or intimidating environment.

SEGREGATION

occurs when, on the basis of protected characteristics, certain persons or groups are separated from persons or groups in a comparable situation to them, without being expressly permitted by law.

RETALIATION

occurs when a person who has raised an objection or brought or participated as a party to proceedings for breach of equal treatment has to face disadvantage.

A remedy may be sought if the conduct of a public body, budgetary institution or body has been discriminatory or if the discrimination has occurred in relation to education, health care, housing, employment, the sale of goods or access to various services.

12